

*Training Teachers To So Clarify God's Word
That The Student Cannot Possibly Miss It!*

"As leaders, we must initiate the training of our teachers and workers. Your ministry will rise or fall on the abilities of your lay teachers and workers. They are the ones who lead your classes!"

Abb Thomas
Instructor

Bro. Thomas has been ministering to children, teens, and adults for over forty years. Twenty of those years were spent in a church with a weekly attendance of 10,000. For the past seventeen years, he has ministered through the First Baptist Church in Milford, Ohio.

Bro. Thomas is the founder of Master Ministries and Master Clubs. Over 7000 churches have had their teachers and Christian workers attend the Teacher Training workshops.

Paul Thomas, his son, travels to most meetings and will be a tremendous blessing and encouragement to you.

Whenever you find companies with superior performance, you find companies with superior training.
 Why not in your church?

The ultimate goal of teaching is not content; it is life-change!
 Teaching without application is fruitless.

The Style of Great Teachers

25 quick ideas about good teachers to keep feeding your mind.

The Essential Learning Process

This process will guide you in preparation, organization, and will insure that learning takes place.

Building Need for the Lesson

The teacher is responsible for causing the student to learn.

What About the Spirit of God?

The Spirit of God is ready, able, waiting, and desiring to help you.

Techniques of Teaching

The more we see, hear, touch, and do, the more we learn. We will study the most frequently used methods.

The Discipline of Children Today

Let me share how to control six boys in a classroom or 600 children in children's church.

The Teacher's Role Defined

Your role is to so clarify what God has to say that the student couldn't possibly miss it.

Application (50% of your lesson)

Teaching without application is fruitless. Content is the "what;" application is the "so what." It's why you teach.

Too Much Is Just Too Much!

Too much to remember or too much to apply causes the student to "give-up."

The Teacher's Mannerisms

93% of communication is above and beyond the words you say. How you say what you say is important.

Determining the Students Response

How do you know if the students are "getting" it?

Putting It All Together

Two great principles: The teacher masters the lesson, and the teacher involves the student.
